Hello! My name is Alex Mannerino - I am a 22-year-old Summoner currently residing in the heart of the Research Triangle: Durham, North Carolina. I was introduced to League of Legends mid-Season 2, and have been unable to turn away since my first foray onto Summoner's Rift. When I first stumbled upon the Riot Manifesto, it was then that a dream was born. I knew that this was the place I wanted to be. Riot Games has captured my attention with the company's incredible work culture and highlight on player experience. The amount of passion for the community is apparent, and it does not go unnoticed - I would love nothing more than to be a part of Riot's bright future.
